Office Action Summary	Application No. 10/696,515	Applicant(s) AKASHE ET AL.
	Examiner Carolyn A. Paden	Art Unit 1794

-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --
Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Upon updating and reviewing the file, the additional prior art to Housez was discovered to be applicable to the claims in the application. Accordingly the amendment filed December 18, 2007 has been entered and prosecution of this application continues.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 8-10, 13-20, rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Housez.

Housez discloses the preparation of chocolate caramels. Here sugar and soymilk are combined and boiled. After simmering for 10-15 minutes, butter, honey and cocoa are added and the mixture is boiled and stirred for 10-15 minutes until the mixture thickened. Finally from original 405 ml (405g) starting mixture, 18 caramel candies are produced that weigh about 7.5 g apiece. The composition of the caramel is shown at the bottom of the page to contain a fat and protein content that falls within the range of the claims. No off-flavors are indicated in this caramel formulation.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 11-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Housez.

Housez discloses the preparation of chocolate caramels. Here sugar and soymilk are combined and boiled. After simmering for 10-15 minutes, butter, honey and cocoa are added and the mixture is boiled and stirred for 10-15 minutes until the mixture thickened. Finally from original 405 ml (405g) starting mixture, 18 caramel candies are produced that weigh about 7.5 g apiece. The composition of the caramel is shown at the bottom of the page to contain a fat and protein content that falls within the range of the claims. No off-flavors are indicated in this formulation. The claims appear to differ from Housez in the recitation of the inclusion of a coating in the candy formulation. Coating candy with chocolate is very well known in the art of candy making. To coat the candy of Housez would have been an obvious way to create a double chocolate caramel candy.
